

Why do we collect personal information?

Personal information that we collect are only use to make a booking, establish a contract (which legally implies the collect of personnel information) and to answer your requests when you contact us. We do not collect information that are not needed.

According to the loi informatique et libertés n° 78-17, and to the European General Data Protection Regulation GDPR, the customer has a right to access, a right of modification, of correction and of suppression at any moment concerning the information collected on this site.

Your personal information is not sold, not given or exchanged.

In which case do we collect personal information and who keeps them?

The information are kept by the Campsite Beaulieu and its different partners who participate to the fulfilment and the management of the contract (booking sites, online payment, billing ...)
They can also be kept for satisfaction surveys and statistics.

You will have to communicate this information when you make an information request, a booking either by mail or by phone, or by coming at the reception.

They will only be used to answer to your requests.

How long are kept this information and how to consult them

CF Document Inaxel et le RGPD.

You can apply your right of access by email or mail at this address:

Camping Beaulieu, 3 rue du Treuil Gras 17138 PUILBOREAU

Or contact@camping-la-rochelle.com