GENERALITIES AND BOOKING

Each booking request implies having taken knowledge of the description of the subject and the price and also the agreement of the rules and regulations of the campsite and its general conditions. Each rental contract is personal and retrocession to a third part is not possible. The booking proposal is subject to the availabilities at the day of the contract sending. The management is not engaged in any other way. The booking form must be correctly completed and sent quickly with the request deposit, booking fees and cancelling insurance if subscribed. The booking becomes effective after a written confirmation of the management and at the reception of the 30% deposit. It will be confirmed and accepted. Every change must be notified one month before the arrival. Your arrival form must be presented at the reception on arrival day. It is your responsibility to subscribe a civil liability insurance, as well as an insurance for your material, tent, caravan. Campsite Le Beaulieu is not responsible in case of thief, loss or any damage, during or after your stay.

Prices are including VAT, with a tax rate of 10% % practical the day it was defined. Each later change of the VTA rate that occurs between the moment the prices have been determinate and the billing of the stay, will lead to a correlative change of the price including VTA, which the client accepts unreserved.

No refund of the stay will be accepted if the rules and regulations is not respected (noise, dangerous behavior, drunkenness, disturbance of other customers' tranquility ...)

No installation will be accepted on the pitch except after agreement of the management implying an extra payment.

Each customer must take note of the rules and regulations available on demand and posted at the reception and at the entrance of the campsite.
